Wisconsin Right to Life Political Action Committee Endorses Scott Walker and Mark Neumann for Governor

Tom Barrett is Nothing More Than a Jim Doyle Re-Run

Thursday, July 1, 2010

The Wisconsin Right to Life Political Action Committee has endorsed Scott Walker and Mark Neumann in the crucial 2010 race for Governor.

"Both Scott Walker and Mark Neumann have a deep and abiding respect for the value of human life," said WRTL/PAC Chair Bonnie Pfaff. "The election of either of these exceptional candidates would greatly contribute to building a culture of life where the most vulnerable members of the human family are welcomed and protected."

The positions of Walker and Neumann regarding the protection of innocent human life stand in stark contrast to the positions of Tom Barrett.

Wisconsin Right to Life Legislative/PAC Director Susan Armacost, said, "If people care about protecting human life, they shouldn't vote for Tom Barrett. Barrett is a pro-abortion James Doyle re-run – magnified – on right-to-life issues. Barrett voted pro-abortion throughout his entire legislative career including keeping minor girls' abortions a secret from parents and keeping partial-birth abortions legal. Radical pro-abortion organizations like Planned Parenthood can always rely on Barrett to support its deadly agenda and has given him their enthusiastic endorsement."

"We will have much more to say about Barrett's record in the months to come," said Armacost.
