As expected, Wisconsin Right to Life has been vindicated in John Doe proceedings initiated by a complaint to the District Attorney's Office related to recall elections.

"We knew we had done nothing illegal, nor did we ever intend to do anything illegal," stated Barbara Lyons, Executive Director of Wisconsin Right to Life.

"Wisconsin Right to Life is and always has been a revered organization that works within the law to correct a grave injustice in the law."

"Our concern going forward is future unfounded complaints against Wisconsin Right to Life or other citizen groups. If the prosecutor had decided in favor of the complainants, ordinary campaigning, such as paying a television station to run ads, would have been outlawed. Wisconsin Right to Life is relieved that complainants' extreme interpretation of the law has been rejected," continued Lyons.
